Melee Kills 1, Wounds 3

A charge of murder and three charges of assault with intent to murder have been filed in Justice L. N. McDonald's court against Oscar Cook, 27, of Rogers, after a brief, deadly shooting spree about 8 p. m. Tuesday in Davilla.

Dead is:

Mrs. Dan Crow, 39 of Davilla.

Wounded are:

Mary Lou Crow, 16, daughter of deceased, in critical condition at a Temple Hospital.

Danny Crow, 20, son of the deceased, in serious condition in a Temple Hospital.

Mrs. Velma Cook, 22 of Davilla, former wife of Oscar Cook, in fair condition in a Temple hospital.

Each of the three wounded persons had been shot in the chest, according to Sheriff Carl Black.

Cook, himself shot clean through his chest, is under around - the-clock guard in St. Edward Hospital, suffering from what he told authorities was a self - inflicted gunshot wound.

He was brought to the Cameron hospital from a Taylor hospital where he had received emergency treatment Tuesday night.

Black told The Herald this story:

Cook was released from the Milam County Jail about 11 a. m. Tuesday after serving out a fine for disturbing the peace. He went into jail the day divorce proceedings were completed in Milam District Court.

Then Cook hitchhiked a ride to Temple and borrowed a car from a Lucille Scott, of Temple, then drove back to Cameron to seek legal advice on the divorce, granted April 30.

Driving back to Temple, he went to see two other lawyers there, being advised to get an attorney in Milam County.

Then he went to Rogers, bought a box of .22 - cal. shells and borrowed a 22 - cal. pistol from his cousin, whom Cook told he was going to use the pistol for coon hunting.

Cook went out to a Rogers dump ground, fired six rounds from the pistol to see if it worked, Black said.

After calling his former wife, Mrs. Cook, who worked in Rogers, Cook hitched a ride to Davilla. Black said Cook had asked her to come back to him.

About 8 p. m. Tuesday, Cook went to the Crow residence in Davilla, where his former wife was staying with her parents. The deceased woman's husband, Dan Crow, was out of town.

Mrs. Cook came to the door. Cook said he wanted to see the divorce papers. She went into the house and got them .

Black said Cook again asked his ex - wife to come back to him and again she refused.

Black said that Cook apparently pulled the pistol and shot her in the chest, then going inside house.

Then Black said Cook shot Danny Crow, hitting him in the chest.

Black said that Cook then said he rushed into another room of the five room house and shot Mrs. Crow his former mother - in - law point blank after she slapped him.

Mrs. Crow was shot in the left side of the chest. She fell dead. Powder burns were found on Mrs. Crow's blouse.

Black then said that Cook came back into the room and saw Danny Crow pointing a .410 shotgun at him. Cook was quoted by Black as saying he knocked the barrel away and shot at young Crow again.

At some point, Black said, Cook shot Mary Lou Crow, daughter of the deceased. Cook said he was not sure just when he shot her, but it was believed at this point, Black continued.

Black said that Cook then admitted that he had turned the gun on himself, attempting to shoot himself through the heart.The bullet slanted and came out his back.

Black quoted Cook as saying that he ran from the house and asked Frank Dodd, a neighbor to take him to a hospital, claiming someone had shot him (Cook). Dodd went into his house. When he didn't return, Cook told Black. Cook drove off himself. He drove a pickup to a house near Lanesport and asked the residents to take him to a hospital.

He was driven to a Taylor hospital. Highway patrolmen found the pickup, then returned to the Davilla house.

The wounded members of the family were taken to a Tempie hospital by neighbors.

Black said he could account for all 12 shells, six hulls found in the Rogers dump ground and six found in the Crow house. The other 38 of the original 50 in the box were in Cook's pocket.

Patrolmen Gilbert Smith and Durwood Kennedy found the blood-stained divorce papers on the porch.

Also assisting in the investigation were Texas Ranger Captain Clint Peeples, Ranger Johnny Kremneu, both of Waco, and Ranger Trent Horton, of Belton. Frank Tucker, law officer at Rogers, was first to reach the scene.

A neighbor of the Crows, Mrs. Lester Dodd, had called the Milam sheriff's office that afternoon and asked that Cook be picked up. Black was in Rockdale. Deputy Will Vaughn told the woman that Cook couldn't be picked up unless he was violating a law.

Skill-O-Rama

Over 900 scouts visitors attended the Tejas District largest annual Scout show, the Skill-O-Rama.

Fourteen first place awards went to the units as they showed skills used in their scouting program. An inside story lists the winners.

A surprising sight it was to see snow along the base of the Cameron Ice Company building on East First Street.

That's right .... snow. It must be the residue of ice shavings or the like that is removed from the ice - making department of the plant.

But there it was on a warm May 15.

Work is progressing on the parking lot immediately behind the First Presbyterian Church where workmen were busy Wednesday pouring a concrete ledge along the back of the church and leveling gravel in the parking area.

Another parking lot was recently done when asphalt surfacing was placed on the parking lot across from the First Methodist Church. It is used by management and employees of First National Bank.

104 - 104 - 104

The Mexia Indian dancing group Saturday night gave rise to the common concern for the need for rain in this area.

Cameron people woke up to a nice overcast morning Wednesday and like all Milam Countians hoped they would spill some rain.

Rains have fallen in the north end of the county but overcast weather has been the best we could do in the central and southern part of the county.

104 - 104 - 104

One Cameronite assured us rain would fall by the weekend:

"You can bet on it. I've just washed my car and have been watering my lawn every day for a week," he said optimistically.

Color The Herald orange! Some unknown "admirer" of this newspaper, who admits to being a subscriber, but feels uncompelled to claim authorship, gave us some real scrutiny last week.

We confess to various shortcomings as a newspaper editor, but admit as well that The Herald or any newspaper's function is "open book" and apparently susceptible to "open season" at times. Any how, that orange crayon made some marvelous sweeps on the May 9 edition.

Pioneer Agriculture Agent

Banzhaf Rites Held Mon.

George Banzhaf, 93 - year - old Milam County agent emeritus and the oldest county agent in the United States, was buried Monday afternoon in Rockdale.

Among the first nine county agents in West Texas, "Mr. George" had gained a nation - wide reputation in his career in agriculture public service that began in Milam County in 1908.

He died Sunday in a Cameron hospital. Services were held 2 p. m. Monday at Marek - Burns Funeral Home with the Rev. Aubrey F. Russell officiating. Graveside serves were conducted by members of San Andres Masonic Lodge at Rockdale's Murray Cemetery.

CITED OFTEN

Up until six months ago when illness took him from his desk, Banzhaf was in the County Agent's office daily in the Cameron Postoffice. He was recognized during the war years of World War II as "county agent emeritus" and served in the absence of J. W. Stuflebeme, Jr., who was called into service. Mr. George had actually retired in 1940. His successor is the present agent, J. D. Moore.

During the 50th Anniversary celebration of the Extension Service in 1953 at Texas A & M, Banzhaf received a three - diamond - studded pin for 30 years in the Extension System.

At 88, he was cited at the 50th anniversary of the annual 4-H Roundup in 1958 as the county agent who had given the longest span of service to a single county.

Mr. George was born on a farm near Williamsport, Penn., January 26, 1870. He left his parents at the age of 8 and came to the Texas home of his married sister in the Minerva Community.

George Banzhaf

He purchased a small farm near Minerva at the age of 19.

Some years later, businessmen of Rockdale and Cameron recommended him, at 38, to head the first county agent's office in Milam County and one of the first in Texas.

ATTACKS WEEVIL PROBLEM

His first projects were attempts to reduce the boll weevil problem and improve farming methods. this was in the day of "King Cotton" when 50,000 to 60,000 bale crops were the rule in Milam County.

He had never finished high school or attended college. His experience as a farmer qualified him for the work. He was "special agent" until 1911 when he was officially "county agent."

He came to Cameron in the mid-1920's where he set up office. Earlier he had been in Rockdale and at first operated out of his Minerva farm on a parttime basis.

Banzhaf established crop demonstrations and worked up studies on Milam's 31 types of soil. He introduced the then revoutionary terracing and contour farming in 1914 when erosion was especially destructive on older farms.

Earlier, he organized the first Milam Corn Club, followed by a Cotton Club and pig program in 1914. He one time estimated he had worked with some 4,000 boys in these pioneer programs that were to become part of the modern 4-H Club program.

DAILY RECORDS

He kept daily records of his work and could trace each day's events of his long career. He practiced what he preached.

Surviving are a son, W. C. Banzhaf, of Temple; and two grandsons, George Banzhaf, Jr., and Glen Banzhaf, of Conway, Ark.

The pioneer agriculturist married in the 1900's. His wife died in 1919 and a daughter soon after her. He never remarried.

Active in the First Baptist Church he was a member of the Masonic Lodge for 25 years and the Knights of Pythias for 20 years.

Debbie Lewis Wins State Spelling Honor

Miss Debbie Lewis, 6th grade student in Ada Henderson, received a certificate of honor from R. J. Kidd, director of spelling in the Interscholastic League state contest.

Miss Lewis's paper was submitted after the April A & M Consolidated district meet which the Ada Henderson students participated in.

In a letter to Miss Lewis, Kidd said that her paper was one of a very few to be marked 100 per cent in state competition.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Lewis of Cameron. Her spelling teacher is Mrs. Luther Carlton.

Results Pending In TIL Shorthand Contest Finals

Results are still pending on the outcome of the Texas Interscholastic League state finals in shorthand in which Cameron's Peggy Schiller, 1963 senior salutatorian, is competing.

Miss Schiller, daughter of Rep. and Mrs. Milton Schiller, of Cameron, was one of two Yoe High School seniors who entered state final competition in Austin. She had won firsts both in district and regional shorthand competition.

Nelda Parker, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Joe Parker, of Cameron, won a fourth place in the feature writing phase of the state finals in the five - part journalism contest.

Results on the shorthand competition were unavailable and were pending at presstime, officials said.

Interest Broadens As Drive Leaders Named In Contest

Interest in The Cameron Herald subscription campaign has been keen throughout the area, since the first announcement of $3300 in cash prizes for selling most subscriptions, was made in our issue of April 25.

But the first published announcement in today's paper of the seven who are "at the top" leading for the seven big cash prizes to be awarded the last day of this month, is going to be equally big, if not bigger news than the original announcement of the huge prize array.

Nothing even approaching the prize awards being offered by the Herald in this campaign have ever been approached, by any other business concern in this area.

The hundreds who have given subscriptions thus far in the campaign, are going to be watching today, to see where the favorite they voted for stands in the race.

But others, even more intensely interested, will be the campaign workers themselves. The standings report published on this page today under the heading "Who Is Leading Now", will be their first knowledge as to where they stand in the race for the big money prizes -- headed by $1,000.

The standings report is based on cash sales reported thus far -- not on votes. The prize will be awarded on votes at the end. The Standings published today, though not decisive, are a good indication on votes. Votes, however, will not be counted until the campaign end, and that count will be made by vote counters selected by contestants, as provided in cam - paign rules.

One thing should be pointed out to those reading these standings. These cannot and do not show, the closeness in these reces or several of them.

In one instance, at least, one single subscription sale by a contestant, could have moved one contestant down in the race -- moved another up -- a prize difference of hundreds of dollars.

The campaign reached the halfway point Tuesday of this week. It positively ends, Friday, May 31. That date also marks the end of campaign subscription bargain rates. The following day, June 1, subscription prices will be increased. New rates will be $3.00 yearly in Milam County and $4.00 elsewhere per year.

No matter what date your present subscription expires, you can now renew it at bargain rates for as many additional years as you chose. That opportunity ends May 31.A handy coupon for renewal appears in a display ad on another page. Why not use it, now?

LAST OF HIS CRAFT....

Blacksmith Closes Shop

A Staff Special

"I am going to my sisters in Kerrville. She is a widow and can use company."

Speaking was blacksmith Clyde Brumble, 55, of Cameron, one of the last of a onetime florishing craft in the West -- a horse shoer.

"Horses are my life," Brumble, an ex - rodeo rider and polo pony fancier, told his Herald interviewer.

He speaks the language of his craft with relish and recounts a lifetime of riding and shoeing horses from California to Pimlico at Baltimore to the polo fields of Long Island, N. Y.

He and his wife are living in the quarters that serve as his blacksmith shop. It is located across from the Milam Jail just a block south of the Courthouse Square.

16 YEARS IN CAMERON

He has been shoeing horses off and on for 16 years in Cameron and has become somewhat of a celebrity among the diminishing numbers of men who ply his craft. Pictures and stories about him have appeared in various dailies throughout Texas. He keeps a folder of the clippings and photos.

Brumble came to Cameron in 1927 as a rodeo contestant and returned in 1947.

"I broke my leg in a spill in that field over there," he said, pointing in the direction of Green's Field, site of rodeos, circuses and ballgames for many years.

He is a story book character in his recollections of a life of racing and caring for horses.

He has shoed horses and mules in the Army, in 22 below zero weather in Wisconsin, 500 feet below the earth's surface in Oklahoma mines and many other places.

He once owned an interest in a string of polo ponies in Westbury, Long Island, N. Y. And he had held at one time a one goal membership in the Polo Association.

Born in Perkins, Okla. Brumble came to Texas and grew up around San Angelo. He went into small circuit rodeoing about 1924, going from place to place. He never entered the major shows.

"I always liked to get up and ramble," he told an interviewer one time.

5 HORSES A DAY

How fast can he shoe a horse Brumble says he can shoe about five head a day. He is presently shoeing about that many a week.

The tools of his trade are 92-pound anvil, an old hand - crank force and a 12 - pound vice.

Even in the Army Bumble was a shoer of horses. He was with the 30th Vetinary Hospital attached to the First Cavalry Division. He was first in charge of this work in his unit, then was named an instructor in the craft at Fort Bliss when the First Cavalry was mechanized. The Division and its tanks went to Europe and Brumble stayed in the States.

He says he has a lot of good friends and customers who keep bringing back their horses for shoeing. A handsome animal, out of Wymoing, was standing newly shoed and waiting for his owner, as Brumble talked to the interviewer.

Brumble is a tanned, slender, sinewy man who, except for his graying beard, does not appear to be in his mid - 50's.

EXTRA CARE

"I take extra pains to shoe a horse," he said. Putting on a leather apron, he holds the horse's leg across his thigh and places the shoe and drives the nails.

"A man doesn't have to know anything much to nail a shoe on a horse, but he has to know a lot about a horse to shoe him right." he said.

Brumble knows his trade as well as any man practicing it. But there aren't as many horses as there used to be.

Clyde Brumble is one of the last of his day.

Milam ASCS Report

Tuesday, May 21, eligible wheat farmers will have an opportunity to express their views on the 1964 wheat program in a wheat referendum.

A "no" vote by more than one-third of the growers voting would mean no quotas, no marketing penalties and price support at 50 percent of parity to growers who do not exceed their acreage allotments.

A "yes" vote for 1964, by at least two - thirds of the growers voting, would mean not only a diversion program and price support to partcipating producers, but also marketing certificates at about $2.12 per bushel on 80 percent of normal production of a farm's acreage allotment. A farm with a wheat allotment may exceed the allotment and use acreage from the feed grain base for additional wheat acreage. In addition, a small grower with an allotment of 13.5 acres or less will have the option of diverting all his allotment to conserving uses at 50 per cent of the county support rate on the normal yield of the farm's base acreage.

The following polling places for the May 21 referendum in Milam County have been announced by Alva E. Sanders, office manager of the Milam County Agricultural, Stabiliation and Conservation Service:

BEEF CATTLE

Beef cattle which have been on dry ranges for six months or more may face serious nutritional deficiencies, says U. D. Thompson, extension animal husbandman. Of major importance is the lack of high quality range grass or forage. Phosphorus is likely to be deficient under drouth conditions and should be fed free choice. Vitamin A may or may not be dificient, depending upon the forage available.

Poison Cotton For Good Stand

By J. D. Moore
Milam County Agent

Cotton is up to a good stand, and ready to grow. Some March planted cotton is putting on squares this week.

Limited rainfall has enabled farmers to get a good economical start with their cotton without excessive grass and weeds.

The big hazard this past week was unusual thrip and worm damage to un - poisoned cotton fields. The dry weather conditions caused host plants to mature early resulting in a heavy migration of thrips and flea hoppers to cotton fields. All unpoisoned fields of cotton are suffering heavy thrip damage.

The thrip is a tiny orange to black colored insect that feeds on the tender terminal growth of the cotton plant. Its damage results in a deformed plant with the top eaten out. This condition will delay proper fruting of the plant by some two weeks to a month. At harvest time this could effect the net profit considerably.

A residual poison is recommended. Since adult thrip and flea hoppers have wings and continue migrating into cotton fields, a residual poison - DDT, Strobane, etc., are recommended. Field inspections cannot be over emphasied.

Spray Pecan Trees During The Week of May 13 to May 17

The small worm that bores into the small pecan starts working on the pecans about May 15 in Milam County. A residual spray containing Toxaphene, Endrin, DDT or any recommended worm sprays give protection for 5 or 6 days. However, if a grower finds worm damage, Malithion or Parathion gives a quicker kill for immediate results.

We have excellent prospects for a pecan crop this year and the timing of the casebearer spray is very important.

FARM HOURS

One hour of farm labor now produces more than four times as much food and other crops as it did in 1919 - 21. Crop production is 70 percent higher per acre. Output per breeding animal is 90 percent greater. One farm worker supplies food, fiber and other products for 27 people; in 1920 he supplies . Output per man - hour on America's farms in the 1950's increased 5.1 percent a year while output per man - hour in non-farm industry increased by 2.2 percent a year. Farming is still the nation's biggest industry.

Alcoa Forsees Prosperous '63

Alcoa spokesmen forsee better business in 1963 than in 1962, according to a report accompanying the 1962 annual financial report.

Industry - wide predictions are for from 5 to 10 per cent gains this year. Net income during 1962 increased more than 12 per cent.

Rockdale Works officials credit a great deal this progress to the production workers "who have really stepped up to the challenge of making the Rockdale Works a more competitive operating unit.

"They are doing a good job and are well compensated for what they do," the spokesman said.

The increased business activity has had a stimulating effect on Rockdale operations.

During the past year, Rockdale Works restated a fifth potline and facilities have recently been completed for producing larger DC ingot for the manufacture of aluminum sheet products.

The sixth potline is currently being prepared for the expected additional business later this year, plant management said.

"Although we have had no definite word concerning a restart of Line 6, which would bring this plant up to its full capacity, we feel somewhat optimistic about the possibilities later this year."

"The entire work force has been involved in a program to upgrade the quality of aluminum produced at Rockdale for the past several months." The grade of metal now being produced is better than 99.70 per cent purity.

Gross revenue for 1962 reached $950,053,345, a 10. per cent in - crease over the 1961 total.

Alcoa income before United States and foreign taxes on income was $85,046,559. or 37 percent above the $62,248,676 for 1961, despite generally lower price levels, the annual report said.

Net income after taxes was $56,-441,559 or $2.52 per share of common stock outstanding at the end of 1962, an increase of 31 per cent over last year's $43,048,676 or $1.90 per share.

Study Shows 2310 Milam Countians Receive Benefits

More than 2,310 Milam County men and women over age 65 receive monthly social security benefits totaling $118,450 each year, according to the Temple social security office.

The figures were released during the observance of Senior Citizens Month in May by Durelle L. Allen, Temple office manager. He pledged renewed efforts on behalf of his staff to maintain a high level of public service.

"Studies show," Allen said, "that the senior citizens spends the biggest part of his social security check in the community for food, clothing and housing. And the number of people receiving benefits is constantly increasing as more people reach 65 each year.

President Kennedy has proclaimed May as Senior Citizens Month, urging all persons "to co - operate in its observance by increasing community awareness of the problems faced by older men and women, strengthening services and opportunities to meet their special needs and giving recognition to their past and present contributions."

Drag Strip Is Planned Here

Accelerators Start Building Plans On S. J. Wohleb Farm

The Accelerators Auto Club is planning to build a drag strip near Cameron on the S. J. Wohleb farm just off the Temple Highway and about two miles outside of the city limits, according to Chuck Krenek, president of the club.

Wohleb, who has two sons in the club, told the group that they could have the land to build a strip. He said it was theirs as long as they wanted the land. Paper work on the land will be completed in the near future.

"The boys have tried for a long time to get a strip around here and have never been able to get the land, so it is with a great thinking that I gave them the use of the land," Wohleb told The Herald.

"This will teach the boys a lot and give them some responsibility such as paying the taxes and running a business," he said.

The group hopes to pave about a half mile of the strip. A quarter-mile of this is for dragging and the rest, plus a little more land would be for braking.

They hope to get stands so that the fans would have a place to sit. Most strips in this area do not have stands.

The boys themselves will try to do most of the work if they can borrow the needed equipment.

A drag strip charges admission to both the sepctators and drivers and a fee for each class a car enters.

DRAGGING MOTOR - Chuck Krenek, president of the Acceleators, works on a motor that the culb will use in a car they will enter in the area drag races. The group is also planning to build a drag strip near Cameron. Staffoto

A new head coach for Yoe High School was apparently named Tuesday night as the school board discussed the matter for an hour and ten minutes in a closed session.

The board went into sesson Tuesday night after three newsmen left the room. The newsmen would not assure the school board that they would hold the news until Sunday. The board asked them to hold it so the final arrangements could be made.

One of the reasons given by the newsmen for not giving the promise was the fact that an area daily received the news of Coach John Roberts resignation before the local media. There were no newsmen at the called meeting of the board at which Roberts and Coach Joe Davis resigned.

After this meeting in which the letters were submitted, the school board members, who were asked to keep it quiet, said only routine business was handled at the meeting.

So the new coach is known only by the school board members.

But one can guess. There were over thirty applicants for the job. Noticed in Cameron recently were many coaches. Some looking for a job, others just looking and visiting.

George Kirk, line coach at Temple was in town this week, Morris Stone of Caldwell, and Richard Smiley were both in town recently. Also in town were coaches from Sour Lake and South San Antonio.

One of these men, or another of the applicants will most likely be announced this week. Our guess is that it is one of the above named coaches.

The Maple Bowling League is to wind up its season this Friday night and it is to be an exciting finish. Three teams are battling it out for the top spot.

At the head of the pack is the Farm and Ranch Team and they have only a single game lead over second place New Cameron Drug. And in third place is the always dangerous Falstaff team.

Falstaff has to make up one set of games with the Coca-Cola team as they were forced to postpone their series last Friday night after too many of the Falstaff team members had to work or were out of town. If they win all four games they will be only two games out and in a position to win if New Cameron should lose games against the Pearl team they bowl in the last match.

But Falstaff will have a good match Friday night as they get the leaders Farm and Ranch. Falstaff is a lot like Baylor except they are winning more games. They are known as the giant killers in the league.

They have dropped the top team 11 out of 12 games and have done the same to the New Cameron Drug team.

And with the possibility of Pearl getting hot, it could make for an interesting night of bowling.

-sh-

And on the subject of bowling, Charles Hollas, former Cameronite, now at the University of Texas and a member of the school's bowling team went to Chicago this weekend for a big bowling tournament. We have not received word on how the young bowler came out at the big city.

-sh-

There is interest in racing among the youth of our town and each Sunday there will be quite a few at the Drags in Temple, Waco and elsewhere.

And they all are not dragging most are watching the same as in any sport.

Now the newly recognized Accelerator Club is planning to build a drag strip near Cameron.

After Mr. Serphine Wohleb gave the club the use of his land the ideas flew and the club is working. Wohleb gave this reason for giving the land to the boys. The boys need something to do and this will give them something to keep busy and earn them responsibility. But he addmitted that he could not do everything for them.

And this is where the community needs to help.This can be at least a self - sustaining project. Drag strips bring in a lot of money ..... to the strip owners and the town it is near.

Besides this it will also keep the kids from dragging on the streets and highways.

And cheer up ..... remember you can still use a dime for a screwdriver.

Yoemen Start Fast But A&M Cons. Is Able To Stop Them And Win Game

The Cameron Yoemen took a quick 5 run lead in the first inning against A & M Consolidated but faltered and the Tigers came on to edge the Yoemen 9-8 in the last game of the season for both teams. It was played in Cameron Friday night.

Cameron started off with a bang as Laurence Laffere doubled. Larry Paul Manley walked and John Smith hit a single. Edmond Michalka walked and Bob Dymke banged out a double.

Larry Plentl singled and Billy Don Davenport also singled. James Michalka flew out to the left fielder and Ronnie McWilliams grounded to second and Davenport was forced out at second and McWilliams was out at first.

The Tigers took a couple of runs on a homer by Gosset and a double by Caliham.

The Yoemen scored again as Laffere walked and stole a couple of bags including home.

A & M came back to score three runs in the third and two in the fourth to take the lead. They added one in the sixth and one in the seventh.

The Yoemen started a rally in the last of the seventh but it fell one run short as the Tigers won the game.

Bob Dymke went the distance for the Yoemen and was the losing pitcher.

Laffere and Dymke both had doubles as they led the Yoemen.

Summer's coming, get going!

If this isn't a great time to get yourself a new Chevrolet—well, we just don't know when is. Why, you'd almost have to be anti-summer not to let one of these four convertibles get to you. Or any of Chevrolet's sedans, vagons, sport coupes and sport sedans, for that matter.

And there are a lot of other buy-now reasons besides the season. Like the care-free feeling you get on a long vacation trip in a brand-new car. And it's a smart time to trade, what with your Chevrolet dealer all stocked up for a busy summer. Chances are, he has just the model and color you want —be it Chevrolet, Chevy II, Corvair or Corvette—ready to go right now.

Civic Garden Club Holds Last Meeting

Mrs. Joe J. Heitman, president of the Civic Garden Club, was hostess when the club met in her home May 10 for the last regularly scheduled meeting of the year and installation of the new officers.

Dainty refreshments of pink cake squares, sandwiches with pink and green filling, nuts and candy fruit slices were served from the dinning table covered with a beautiful, imported embroidered cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink blossoms. Mrs. Leo L. Fuchs, retiring governor of District V, Texas Garden Clubs, Inc. presided at the silver tea service.

Special guests for the meeting were Mrs. R. B. Kilgore, Jr., Jacob Mulderweg 12, The Hague, Holland and Mrs. J. A. Bowling, Cameron.

Mrs. Kilgore, daughter of Mrs. Wm. Fanning, served as installing officer, using a most impressive original installation service, symbolizing the president to a house and the remaining officers to various phases of the landscaping, concluding with the parliamentarian, likened to the walks and drives for orderly procedure.

Officers installed were Mrs. Leo Fuchs, president; Mrs. R. G. Grabein, vice president; Mrs. Willie E. Falkner, secretary; Mrs. Frank Schiller, corresponding secretary; Mrs. T. J. Raymond, treasurer; Mrs. Joe J. Heitman, reporter; Mr Gib Terry, time keeper, Mrs. G. A. McDermott, historian and Mrs. John Ryan, parliamentarian.

In a short business meeting, the group voted to entertain the husbands and special guests of members with a barbecue scheduled for June 4. The chairman of the Horticulture Committee, Mrs. Alvin Dusek, reported that the special project of exhibiting cut specimens at designated meetings had been completed and that the winner, having won the most blue ribbons during the current year, was Mrs. Wm. Fanning, outstanding horticulturist in the club. She was presented a garden shears as her reward. The door prize was won by Mrs. Fuchs.

As a token of appreciation for outstanding leadership as club president during the past two years the club placed Mrs. Heitman's name in the Presidents' Book, Headquarters Buiding, Texas Garden Clubs, Inc., Ft. Worth.

TOTAL PERFORMANCE:

FORD GALAXIE 500/XL SPORTS HARDTOP

IF YOU KNEW WHAT TINY LUND KNOWS ABOUT FORD DURABILITY...YOU'D BE OUT ENJOYING A '63 FORD

Ask Tiny Lund about Ford durability: He'll tell you how it helped him win America's toughest stock-car competition, the Daytona 500. Lund placed first in a Ford, with four other Fords right behind him for an unprecedented sweep of the first five places. Only the Fords were tough enough to stand the pace.

Greater durability is the reason Ford is able to offer a total-car warranty. Only a true total-performance car could offer as complete a warranty as this—with no strings attached:

"Ford Motor Company warrants to its dealers, and its dealers, in turn, warrant to owners as follows: That for 24 months or for 24,000 miles*, whichever comes first, free replacement, including related labor, will be made by dealers of any part with a defect in workmanship or materials. Tires are not covered by the warranty; appropriate adjustments will be made by the tire companies. Owners will remain responsible for normal maintenance services, routine replacement of parts, such as filters, spark plugs, ignition points, wiper blades, brake or clutch linings, and normal deterioration of soft trim and appearance items."

You can't put a long-term warranty like ours on a short-term car. The '63 Fords have a better warranty because they're built better than any Fords in history. You see evidence of this extra toughness in Ford's outstanding competitive wins this year.

'63 Fords won the grueling Daytona, Riverside, and Atlanta 500's, and the demanding Pure Oil Performance Trials. Only cars with total performance could roll up so many big wins.

Before you buy any new car, test-drive the solid, silent Super Torque Ford. If you haven't driven one lately, you can't really know what a new Ford is like. Remember: If it's built by Ford, it's built for performance . . . total performance.

*90 days or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first, for the 427 C.I.D. 4V or 8V and 390 C.I.D. 4V engines and related power train components.

'Abundant Life To Thousands'

The passing of George Banzhaf, 93, pioneer county agent, is a hallmark in Texas agriculture.

A native of Milam County for 85 years, he was one of the first nine agents in the Extension System and was several years ago credited as one of the first who worked to help farmers educate themselves in scientific methods of farming and livestock production.

Starting as Milam's first agent in 1908, he served this county until mandatory retirement in 1947. But he held special eminence as "county agent emeritus" and came to the office each day until he had to go to the hospital six months ago.

His was a tentative start in 1908, but the Smith Lever Act put the Extension Service on a permanent basis in 1914.

In this, one of the longest careers in Texas agriculture public servicet "Mr. George" created many firsts. He organized the Corn Club for boys in 1910, followed by a Cotton Club in 1913 and a pig program in 1914.

The selective programs grew into the 4-H Club, which during this pioneer agriculturist's time, served some 4,000 boys in Milam County.

His lifetime of service to Milam County agriculture will be long remembered, much as he was remembered in the inscription on his 30-year service award.

"Rendering a service that has brought a most abundant life to thousands of rural families, a most satisfactory community life and increased happiness to others."

Pulse Warm, Beat Quick....

A dramatic attempt to escape through the Berlin Wall probably cost the lives of 12 East Germans, unless attempted escapes receive greater mercy than would be expected.

Twelve people in a bus tried to crash through an opening in the Wall, but submachine gun fire of East German Guards halted the bus and wounded four of the passengers.

Again and again, East Germans risk their lives to get away from East German and Communist domination. The Wall that confines millions is mute testimony to the failure of Communism. Indeed, the graves of fallen escapees dot the Wall's devisive march through Berlin.

These are the heroes of an ironic war, termed cold by both East and West. It is a war whose pulse is a throb of warm hope sometimes spilled in desperate flight, but whose beat is quick and white hot, unwilling to accept blunt Red tyranny.

THE OLD PHILOSOPHER

Philosopher Advises World Leaders On How To Hold A Successful Disarmament Meeting

Dear editar:

I've noticed that along about this time every spring there's considerable talk about banning further testing of atomic bombs and when nothing comes of it the world leaders shake their heads gloomily and say it forebades evil days ahead.

I don't like to advise world leaders, although I've never seen a man yet who wouldn't undertake the job at the drop of a hat, me included, but it seems to me the idea of a ban is sound, they're just picking the wrong item.

Trying to ban the testing of atomic bombs is like trying to get a kid to give up bicycle riding the day after the Christmas he got a new one. Wait till he's old enough to drive a car and you can turn the trick without any trouble.

If the world leaders want to have a really successful disarmament conference, let them meet at some neutral place, say on this Johnson grass farm, and forever ban the use of the cannon ball. If this is too strong for some of the smaller countries just now coming into civilization, they can go a little further back and ban the use of the slingshot and the crossbow.

The trouble with the world leaders is they're trying to get ahead of themselves. How can you expect Frances for example to agree to ban the testing of atomic bombs when it hasn't even gotten one to go off yet?

If the world leaders would like to meet out here, I'll be glad to work up a list of weapons they can successfully get banned, and it won't be just primitive ones, either. For example, take battleships, New Guinea would readily agree to ban battleships, since she hasn't got any. The United States would agree also, since battleships are now about useless in modern warfare. Open cockpit airplanes can be stricken off. And the list can be lengthened, but I'll hold up on it till I hear from the world leaders. No use going to a lot of trouble thinking up items unless they'll come.

I hope they can make it here, though 'Id like to work in the idea also of banning tractor driving.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

BOTTOM OF THE BARREL?

Dateline Austin —

Gov. To Appoint RR Successor

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — Gov. John B. Connally says he is giving a great deal of thought to the appointment of a successor to former Railroad Commissioner William J. Murray Jr.

He says he hopes to find a replacement before the Senate adjourns on May 24, so his choice can be confirmed.

The governor stated he also is working hard on appointments to his "Committee of 25". This is a committee which will be charged with an extensive study of education beyond the high school.

CONNALLY ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Governor Connally can claim a record of accomplishment with the 58th Legislature, which has carried out the following items on the list the governor laid out in his messages to the Legislature:

1. A bill authorizing the Texas Water Development Board to acquire water storage space in federal or local reservoirs is ready for Connally's signature.

2. Revision of the antiquated state Code of Criminal Procedure probably will go to a Senate - House conference committee to iron out differences.

3. Loan regulation bill is near final passage.

4. A constitutional amendment removing the ceiling on welfare grants has passed the Senate and is ready for House action.

5. Padre Island National Sea - shore bill has been signed into law.

6. Proposed constitutional amendment repealing the poll tax passed the Senate and awaits House action. A bill to set up a registration system to replace the poll tax and a revision of the election code are close to final form in conference committees.

7. A tax package -- mainly increases in sales taxes on cars and clothes and a year-long extension of the corporation tax -- has been signed into law.

8. A Senate - passed bill limiting governors to two elected terms now awaits House action.

9. Municipal annexation bill, which sets some limits on the powers of cities to annex territory, is ready for his signature.

10. Measure creating the Texas Tourist Development Agency has been signed into law.

Both houses also have passed the bill to create a 25 - member Committee to Study Education Beyond the High School; bills giving San Angelo and Pan American colleges senior status and full state support; and the Game and Fish-Parks Board merger.

SOME EXCEPTIONS

Connally's plan to reorganize the State Banking Commission ran into banker opposition. But a bill allowing Connally to name one member to replace Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr probably will get through.

His proposal to give the governor authority to control budgets of state agencies within the total dollar limits set by the Legislature got a chilly reception from a House Committee and hasn't been heard from since.

WOMEN'S RIGHTS

Proposed constitutional amendment by Sen. William Moore of Bryan to given women equal property rights was passed by the Senate back in January. It was then sent to a House committee headed by Rep. Jim Cotten of Weatherford.Cotten waited until the first week of April to hold a hearing, then never named a subcommittee to consider women's rights.

Finally, an impatient House, hammered by demands from impatient women voters, instructed Cotten's committee to bring the bill out for a vote. Cotten withstood all pressures -- even a full - scale committee revolt -- until the House took the bill away from him and sent it to the House Insurance Committee.

Some action is promised, but there's no word as to when.

WHITHER SHALL IT HAVE?

El Paso Sen. Frank Owen's bill to forbid the flying of the flag of the United Nations on or in public buildings ran into what may be a fatal delay in the House.

Delay motion came on the heels of a speech by Rep. Howard Green of Fort Worth. He said legislators have received a flood of mail favoring the Owen bill, which attacked leading Texans like former Sen. Tom Connally, former president Dwight Eisenhower and Vice President Lyndon Johnson as being "Tools of the communist conspiracy."

These men will live on in memory when their detractors are "lost in the junk heap of history," Green declared. Bill's House sponsor, Rep Walter Knapp of Amarillo, replied that "the mere fact that a lunatic fringe is supporting this bill is no reason to turn it down.

HOLLIDAY CONFIRMED

For the first time since the reconstruction era, a Negro holds a state office as a member of a major board.

Senate confirmed the appointment of the Rev. C. A. Holliday of Fort Worth to the State Board of Corrections, Despite early opposition to Connally's choice.

TEXTBOOK COMMITTEE

The 15 people who will pick textbooks for consideration by local school boards have been given the oath of office.

Included were Alton O. Bowen, Bryan; Benton L. Brockette, La Marque; Wayne Craddock, Palestine; Avery R. Downing, Waco; Miss Marie Esman, El Paso; Mrs. Lonie Garretson, Pittsburg; Mrs. Frances Gavenda, McAllen.

Also Miss Nelda Jobe, Lubbock; Mrs. Christine Kirkpatrick, Denton; Mrs. Fannie L. Knight, Sherman; Dr. John W. McFarland, Houston; Larry O'Rear, Alice; Miss Alma Marie Rohr, Brownwood; Billy W. Sills, Fort Worth; and Arnold F. Whedbee, Beaumont.

Under a new ruling by the State Board of Education, citizens will have until September to protest the committee's selections.

LETTERS

Editor
The Cameron Herald
Cameron, Texas
Sir:

From all indications it appears that the farming situation is becoming a situation in which farmers are failing to realize fully their own situation. Speaking of farmers, if it were not for hanging ourselves it might be good to see that 35 per cent agriculture get what it deserves. If ever any group deserves a back breaking, spine tinging depression it is that 35 percent of the farmers who call themselves conservative and would do away with government control.

The oil man wants controls. He knows if he doesn't have controls that he will be selling gas for 10 cents a gallon the day that controls go off. The same situation applies to the automobile dealer, the refrigerator manufacturer, the T. V. "makers", and other facets of industry.

It might be good to see Texas farmers and ranchers "who lose" their shirts" under the Republicans and who rose to their highest economic and social positions in history under the New Deal, who then turned and bit the hand that fed them, to have another depression. Probably this element of agriculture who have become self - sufficient would like to see $1 a bushel wheat and 12 cent cotton.

Business, agriculture, and all other economic facets rose to their highest peak under the New Deal reforms; not one of these reforms was reputiated to Eisenhower.

Without considering dollar in - come of the various segments of society now and before the New Deal let us compare the gaps between them.

How far apart are the standards of living of today's farmer and the most prosperous businessmen of the community? In Milam county, who have the best homes? In most instances the farmers have the best homes.

Think back to the 1920's, before the depression, and remember who drove big cars, who lived in the finest homes.

Are these the good old days of 1920's which the conservatives want back? How many farmers drove anything bigger than a Model T? How many teenage daughters of farmers owned evening dresses such as we saw during the county farm queen contests.

Yet, the editor of the Dallas News tells us that we got off the track about 30 years ago, that we have been like a ship without a rudder ever since

These voices know what they're advocating even if those they deceive do not. They want a return to the days of the haves and have nots -- or, as they patriotically call it, the days of uncolled free enterprise when the haves stayed awake nights thinking up ways to get the have nots over a barrel so they could catch them in a bind and crack the whip.

If this country would returned to ultra "good ole days" of the past, these rural area residents who think they are now big enough to be Republicans would be the first to be cut down to size by the really big boys.

Big business is a minority group. it could never win by itself in free elections. Yet it often has and does.

How? Simply by brainwashing the little people by hiring public relations firms to dream up asinine propaganda, by controlling the press and managing the news in such a way that the people know only what the big boys want them to know.

Today's gimmick to keep the people under the thumb of their masters is the creation of an inordinate fear of Communism. They use this boogey man like parents used to use similar boogey man to inspire good behavior in their children.

Of course we would never discount the real threat of international communism which is not to be confused with this pseudo communism.

The problem is: Will the little people awaken to reality and do their own thinking-- or will they continue to be hypnotied by these snake charmers which hold them in intellectual bondage?

We can understand why some people might prefer to do something themselves instead of having the government do it. We mght disagree in certain instances, but we can follow their reasoning.

The problem is not what we want to do but what we need to do.

Take the wheat problem, for example.

In view of the facts of life, we fail to see how anybody could see any solution to the problem of overproduction of wheat except to grow less wheat. When we have munting surplus which runs up huge storage costs, the only solution is to get rid of unneeded wheat and to curb new production.

Now if the farmers can voluntarily get together and figure out a way to control production much like the automobile manufacturers do, fine We are sure Uncle Sam will wish them Godspeed.

But we have never been convinced that there is a way for farmers to control production voluntarily. Too many of them are like Berry Goldwater - federal spending is an evil thing unless the money is being spent in Ariona. Ariona gets more federal aid per capita than any other state.

The only possible reason farmers could have for wanting uncontrolled production is so" they can grow more grain."

Now if they are so efficient they can grow wheat for 25 cents a bushel, what is the point in doing it if there is no need for this extra wheat?

Of course, the originators of this school of thought, not the brainwashed ones who merely parrot what they have heard someone else say and who let the big shots do their thinking for them, are neither ignorant of economics or naive. They simply want the price to drop so low, as it would under the law of supply and demand, that all the little farmers would be forced off their farms, then the corporate farmers would step in and buy their land for a song. After the big guns had all the land, then it would be like all other industry-- shipping, airlines, etc.

Government subsidy would suddenly become quite legitimate. We've heard the old story about how airlines can't make a profit without government subsidy -- and people just must have air service Only now the song would be "Wheat growers can't make a profit unless the grower is guaranteed cost of production (By the government, of course) and the world must have wheat, don't you know."

Meanwhile these former, farmers listening to this story would probably be in Dallas and Waco unable to find jobs. As they reported for their relief checks they might finally admit to themselves that they had been duped by Charlie Shuman and his ilk.

To all you farmers who want your "freedom" to ignore reality, to ignore the needs for your agricultural products, to grow broke, go ahead and vote against the wheat referendum. Go ahead and cut off your nose to spite your face.

Go ahead and "spite" Kennedy and Freeman by signing your death warrant. We imagine they won't even be able to sleep nights when they hear your wails about $1 wheat. And when you go crawling to Washington for relief we hope Kennedy does a "Herbert Hoover" and calls out the troops to escort you out of town.

DEFENDER OF THE TAXPAYER:

SENATOR JOHN G. TOWER

Inadequate news coverage in Central Texas has virtually imposed a news black-out on legislative activities in Washington that are of vital concern to the public. Therefore, the Republicans of Milam County have purchased this space to bring you pertinent excerpts from Senator Tower's April Newsletter:

"MASS TRANSIT: The Administration's first big money bill of this session cleared the Senate by a vote of 52 to 41. We were successful in getting the original $500 million grant feature of the bill trimmed to $375 million. Another feature was added that would provide a like amount for guaranteed loans.

I led the opposition to this bill in Senate debate. It appeared we had the peasure beaten until Administration forces agreed to demands by certain labor leaders.

We sometimes receive mail asking why we are "against" measures such as the Mass Tranit bill, which apparently have little application to Texas and Texas problems. Let us examine this quickly and I believe you can see the reasons.

Proponents of the bill testified in Committee hearings that the initial outlay was merely the beginning, that at least $9,800,000,000 would be needed over the next 10 years to make even a dent in the transportation problems of metropolitan areas. It is likely to cost even more than that. But assuming that the $9.8 billion figure is correct, let us figure how much of this would be paid by Texans. Texans, according to the Library of Congress, pay approximately 4.5 per cent of all Federal taxes. Accordingly, all other things being equal, Texans would pay 4.5 per cent of the $9.8 billion.

This comes to $441,000,000 that Texans would be required to pay in taxes over the next 10 years as their share of the $9.8 billion Mass Transit expenditures. Most of this, of course,would be spent in the urban areas of the East. The figure comes to more than $44 for each man, woman, and child in Texas. A family of four would contribute about $176 to solving the transit problems of persons living in cities far away. This does not take into consideration the other harmful aspects of the measure, the stifling of local initiative, the attempts to reverse normal trends in modern living, the granting to the government of vast new powers. All told I believe it is well worth opposing. In fact, I do not see how anyone sent to Washington to represent the interests of Texans could do otherwise.

THE FARM FRONT: Anyone who still believes that an all-out effort is not being made to completely regiment the American farmer should re - examine the facts. The upcoming wheat referendum, scheduled for May 21, is merely a sidebar to the continuing story of "management" that is characteristic of this Administration. There has evolved an "elite" in this country who honestly think the entire economy should be regimented, and that they, as the superior thinkers, should do the managing. In the final analysis they envision a society not entirely unlike a giant bee colony, in which one class does the work, another class guards the society (without weapons of course) and the drones of the hive would be replaced by "thinkers" who would do the managing.

Our government is set up on a system of checks and balances, with the elected representatives of the people to make laws, the judicial branch to interpret those laws, and the executive branch to execute the laws as finally passed by the people's assembled representatives.

We now see, however, that arm of the government which was originally charged by our Constitution with executing our laws actively engaged in the proposition of spending tax dollars to influence the outcome of an election. The Wall Street Journal quoted the Secretary of Agriculture as saying that every division and agency of the Agriculture Department from Washington down to administrative committees on state and county levels would be mobilized to "inform farmers of details of the complicated new program." There are also reports that the Extension Service is being lined up to plug for the Executive Department's version of the solution to our farm problems. We trust that many employees of the Extension Service will refuse to be a party to this, realizing that their Service was created for something entirely different.

If farmers wait for the Department of Agriculture to objectively inform them of problems and solutions regarding the farms of America, they are apt to end up with more problems than solutions. For, if the past history is any indication of the future, the farmer will hear only one side. We were recently told, for instance, in a glowing, self-serving repost from the Department, that the government is now saving $820,000 a day in grain storage costs because of a reduction in the amount of grain on hand, as compared to 1961 when the Administration's feed grain program went into effect. What the "information" sheet from the Department did not say, however, is that the governmental cost of the entire feed grain program climed from $782,000,000 in 1961 to $841,000,000 in 1962. The Department was perfectly willing to trumpet the news of the so-called saving, while remaining silent on how much it cost to achieve that "saving."

So it is with the entire farm program. They appear more than happy to tell the farmer that his wheat price will fall drastically (which is unlikely) if he fails to vote for the proposed stringent rules that will govern if the wheat referendum passes, but they are strangely silent on informing the farmer, and the rest of America what it is going to cost in terms of freedom and liberty.

SPENDING AND SAVING: When the Senate takes up the Supplemental Appropriations Act of 1963 I intend to offer amendments designed to save the taxpayers nearly one - half billion dollars. I shall seek to remove the $450,000,000 item ear - marked for "Public Works Acceleration", delete $350,000 from a proposed $750,000 appropriation for the Department of Commerce; strike a $30,000,000 appropriation for "shelter surveys"; delete a $55,000 item for the State Department dealing with expenses of organizing and holding the "World Food Congress", and several other minor items."

Anyone, regardless of party affiliation and without obligation, may be placed on Senator Tower's Newsletter mailing list by phoning OX 7-4693.

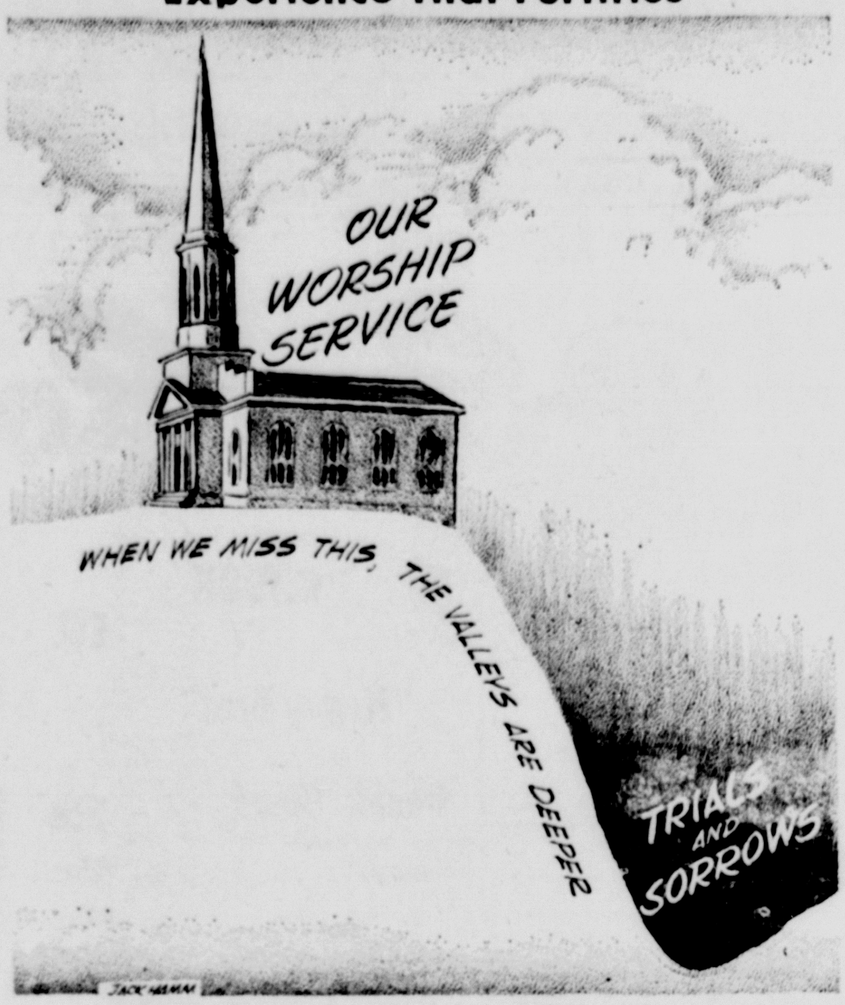
Experience That Fortifies



Every human being, travelling life's journey, finds at times that his path descends into the valleys. Fortunate is the person who knows the Shepherd's tender care:

"Yea though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil, for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff, they comfort me."

With Him, there is safety . . . . the path ascends . . . . . light comes again; and with it, the song of experience:

"I'd rather walk with Christ in the dark
Than to walk alone in the light."
